

Fair Housing at Ginnie Mae

For more than 50 years, Ginnie Mae has provided liquidity and stability, serving as the principal financing arm for government mortgage loans originated by lenders of all kinds that support fair and equitable access to affordable housing for millions of families.

As a key part of the Biden-Harris Administration's far-reaching goal to redress the nation's long history of discriminatory housing practices and reaffirm their commitment to end housing discrimination, HUD and Ginnie Mae will work to reach communities that are historically disadvantaged in the American housing market.

Ginnie Mae financing helped nearly 230,000 Black homeowners in 2020, and overall, Ginnie Mae helps a higher percentage of first-time homebuyers than any other secondary mortgage market program.

For more information on the Fair Housing Act, please visit the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity homepage.